

Celebrate small technology's biggest achievements.

At Small World Expo, the exhibitor opportunity of the year. Las Vegas Convention Center – February 24-26, 2005

The only show dedicated to accelerating the commercial application of small technology.

Finally, small technology experts have something to celebrate. After enduring years of theoretical and "what-if" events, there's a real-life showcase of real-world commercial applications and enabling technologies.

Get ready for Prime Time. Fortune 1000 executives, an international contingent of reporters, analysts and scientists, and a slew of industry-specific technologies make Small World Expo the industry's premier commercial event.

Exhibit at Small World Expo and you'll:

- › Benefit immediately from our exclusive Lead Generation Program, where we provide you with personal introductions, contacts and direct leads to prospective buyers and partners starting from the moment you reserve your space
- › Take advantage of our exclusive Ambassador Program to coordinate pre-scheduled, pre-screened, 1-to-1 appointments during the show, pairing you with executives from premier commercial prospects
- › Save time and money with our turnkey kiosk booth; simply bring your laptop and business cards and you're ready to exhibit in a professional setting
- › Gain recognition and exposure for your small technology initiatives
- › Position your company as a progressive industry leader

Doing something really hot? Ask how you can be considered for our "Best of Show" and "Small Tech Person of the Year" awards.

Don't miss out. Reserve your space today. To order your Priority Exhibitor Package, call (800) 342-2032. Or visit our website.
